MESSAGE FROM Rabbi Luxemburg

How's retirement? Keeping busy? What are you doing?

It happens at the Temple and at the Giant, at the movies and at restaurants. It happens downtown and at beach. I meet congregants who all have the same questions for me: How's retirement? Keeping busy? What are you doing? I really enjoy these conversations. They keep me connected with members of the congregation and remind me that, though my role in the congregation has changed, my relationships with Temple members continue. And for that, I am pleased - and grateful.

In the nearly two years since I stepped aside as Senior Rabbi, and became Rabbi Emeritus, I have been busy. On one hand, events in my own family, some happy, others sorrowful, have taken up significant time and attention. What helped Barbara and me was the support of the congregation, a constant which we appreciate now just as much as during the 35 years of my rabbinate at Beth Ami. On the other hand, I have had the time to pursue longtime interests but in new ways.

For example, many congregants know that I have long been associated with the Jewish

IMPORTANT NEWS ABOUT FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE FOR FY19

In March, Temple Beth Ami's Board of Directors approved a new financial assistance process developed by the Financial Secretary's Committee. The purpose of the change is to make sure that Temple Beth Ami can continue to provide assistance to families who find themselves in situations of great financial need and who cannot afford the full cost of membership. The new process will be put in place for the 2018/2019 fiscal year.

Financial aid will be limited to the Temple's financial capacity and will change from year to year, as reflected in the budget. Each year the Budget Committee will allocate the funds available for financial aid. In addition to yearly fluctuations in both the total pool of available aid and the total number of people and families requesting financial aid, this new process may also impact the Temple's ability to provide financial assistance to individuals from year to year (even if the applicant's situation has not changed). As always, we will continue to do our best to provide assistance to those who need it.

All Temple members will receive a letter in May listing the Board approved fees for the coming year. A worksheet will be enclosed so you can compute your annual commitment (financial aid forms will be due before you receive the FY19 invoice in mid-July which will reflect this amount).

Every applicant for assistance must complete a Financial Assistance Form, whether or not they have requested assistance in the past. The Financial Assistance Form will be available on the web-site.

ALL FORMS MUST BE RETURNED BY JUNE 30 TO BE CONSIDERED. The Financial Secretary's Committee will only be able to allocate the funds available, so meeting this deadline is critical.

Financial assistance will be need based, with those in the most need receiving the most relief. All forms will be considered together in a blind process during which the Financial Secretaries will rank the forms by demonstrated need. Consideration will be given first to those with the most demonstrable need.

ALL ACCOUNTS MUST BE CURRENT FOR THIS CURRENT YEAR TO BE CONSIDERED FOR A DUES ADJUSTMENT.

Please understand that, while it is always our goal to be accessible to every person seeking a Jewish community, the increasing amount of aid being distributed (over $500,000 in FY18) and the on-going deficit ($100,000) make it impossible for us to continue distributing assistance to those families who cannot or will not demonstrate financial need.

Yom HaShoah

The 27th of the Hebrew month of Nisan was set aside by the government of Israel, and adopted by the world Jewish community, as Yom HaShoah, a national day of remembrance of the horrors of the Shoah (Holocaust) and the bravery of all those who resisted it. On Yom HaShoah, we turn our thoughts to the victims and heroes of the Holocaust. As the years pass and new generations arise, it becomes increasingly important to fulfill the mitzvah of zachor – to remember.

We ponder what we and the generations that follow have to lose if the Holocaust becomes no more than a footnote in the history of World War II, and we reflect on the purpose and meaning of maintaining vivid memories of the Shoah.

The JCRC community-wide commemoration, Hate Speech and the Holocaust, will be held at the Temple on Sunday, April 15, beginning at 2:30 pm

Yom HaAtzmaut Celebrating Israel at 70

We will celebrate Spirit of Shabbat and Israeli Independence Day (Yom HaAtzmaut) - Israel's 70th Birthday - on Friday, April 20. Join us for Israeli treats at 6pm, prior to Spirit of Shabbat at 6:30 pm. We will proudly celebrate all the nation's achievements as we look to the future with great hope for and prayers of peace.

GIVE BLOOD ON GOOD DEEDS DAY

On Sunday, April 29th, from 9am – 1pm, come and support the INOVA Blood Drive

There is no substitute for blood; it can only come from a volunteer blood donor. Blood helps save the lives of cancer patients, (lymphoma/leukemia and other disorders) accident and burn patients, premature infants, heart surgery patients, and organ transplant recipients. Every donation can save 3 lives, so each donor can have a massive impact. And the process really is so simple.

Currently less than 38% of our population is eligible to donate blood. If you are eligible, please contact inovabloodsaves.org to make your appointment today. Donating blood is safe, simple and only takes about one hour.

This mitzvah project is sponsored by Hayley Asai.

EXPLORE THE JEWISH WORLD! RABBI LUXEMBURG TO LEAD TEMPLE TRIP TO MOROCCO, SPRING 2019!

A country of dramatic contrasts and vibrant culture. A Jewish community with a continuous history of over two thousand years. A blending of cultures and religions unique in North Africa and the Arab world. This is Morocco, home of a proud Jewish community that produced many important Jewish scholars and philosophers, and whose descendants have been among the cultural, political and intellectual leaders of modern Israel. The trip departs March 31 and returns on April 8, 2019 and will visit Casablanca, Rabat, Fez and spend Shabbat in Marrakesh. There will be visits with members of the Jewish community and sites that represent our peoples' long and storied history in the region. The tour will also experience the rich Moroccan culture and view great treasures of the ancient and modern Islamic world. Travel will be by modern tourist bus, with a tour-educator complimented by local guides. The itinerary includes seven (7) nights of hotel accommodation with breakfasts provided each morning, three dinners and all entrance fees and portage. The cost of the land package is $2940. A group flight leaving from and returning to Dulles International will be available for additional cost (approximately $1300, final airfare to be determined). Independent booking of flights is also possible.

To learn more about this exciting opportunity, join Rabbi Luxemburg for an information and orientation meeting at the Temple on Wednesday, May 9 at 7:30 p.m. Our guest will be Nimrod Shafran, Senior Vice-President of Da'at Educational Expeditions (the travel services provider for ARZAWorld Travel), an experienced guide and expert on Jewish travel in Morocco. He will give a presentation about our trip itinerary and provide answers to our questions. Additional information can be obtained by contacting Rabbi Luxemburg (rjl@bethami.org) or visiting the ARZAWorld website and searching for "Temple Beth Ami". Please note: Participation in this trip will be limited to 40 persons.

Can Shopping and Eating be Good Deeds? (Spoiler alert: YES.)

On any given day, nearly 437,500 youth are in the foster care system in the United States. Of the thousands of youth who enter the system each year, most arrive carrying little more than the clothes on their backs. If they are afforded the opportunity to collect any personal belongings, many are then given a trash bag in which to place and carry their personal items. It is a time of great upheaval and instability, and their first foster home placement is unlikely to be their last. Many youth in foster care will be moved from home to home multiple times, carrying their life's treasures in a trash bag.

That background from Comfort Cases' website begins to tug at the heart strings. But I dare anyone to watch the video of founder Rob Scheer detailing the horrors of his childhood—including arriving at love-less foster homes carrying only a trash bag of belongings and then becoming homeless at age 18—with dry eyes.

Comfort Cases, an organization providing duffel bags or backpacks filled with blankets, books, stuffed animals, toiletries and more to children in the foster care system, has helped more than 30,000 children nationally - all from an office down the road from Temple Beth Ami.

While this inspiring organization embodies the Jewish idea of Tikkun Olam (healing the world) every day, April 15th marks Good Deeds Day - an annual movement for (you guessed it) doing good deeds. All over the world, hundreds of thousands choose to volunteer and help others, putting into practice the simple idea that every single person can do something good, be it large or small, to improve the lives of others and positively change the world. Temple Beth Ami extends an action-packed day into a month-long celebration of repairing the world.

It's no coincidence that the TBANS Parent Committee holds its signature event—Shop and Eat Your Heart Out (affectionately shortened to Shop & Eat)—during this month. This year's event benefits two great non-profits: Comfort Cases and TBANS.

In addition to finding meaningful ways to give back as a family this Good Deeds Day (and year-round), please join the TBANS community for a ladies' evening of shopping, socializing, food and fundraising with a greater purpose - supporting Comfort Cases and TBANS.

Mark your calendars:

INTRODUCING TBAJR.HIGH

This school year our 7th grade program got a new name - TBAjr.High. Its name describes our vibrant 7th grade program and it helps to tie 7th grade into TBAHigh, which begins in 8th grade.

The 7th grade year is a formative one. Most of our students become a bar or bat mitzvah during this year, and we strive to provide opportunities for these students to explore an important period in Jewish history and to explore their own Jewish identity. TBAjr.High meets weekly on Tuesday evenings. The night begins with community-building activities in each class and then the topic of the evening is introduced. The year begins with age-appropriate Holocaust education from a Jewish perspective. During this study unit, the class has a Sunday trip to the United States Holocaust Memorial Museum. Parents are welcome and encouraged to join for this trip, and the trip is prefaced by an evening presentation by a representative of the Museum. During this unit other speakers (including Holocaust survivors) also meet with the group.

The second semester is comprised of an extended unit about Jewish identity. Using provocative films and other exercises which address the idea of “choosing to be Jewish”, students are led through a series of ideas which challenge them to understand what it means to be Jewish in the world today.

TBAjr.High also includes special activities. The year begins with an act of “hiddur mitzvah” (enhancing a mitzvah) during which the students create a beautiful Torah pointer (yad) which is meant to be used at a bar or bat mitzvah ceremony and beyond. During the course of the year, we offer unique holiday programming for TBAjr.High. The class recently partnered with the JNF for a musical Tu B'Shevat seder.

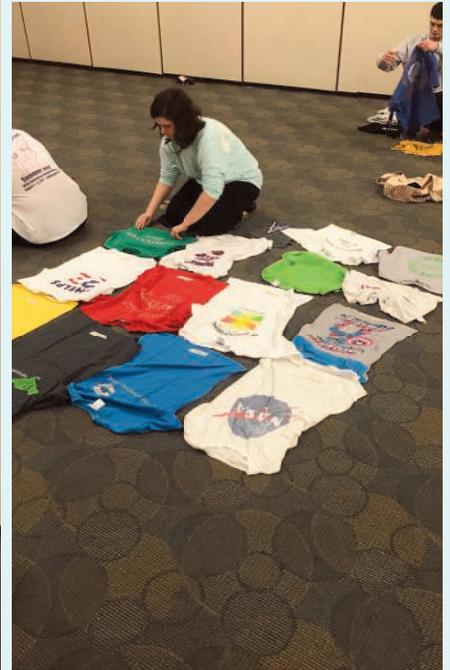

Each week class closes with a social/snack time. In February we offered a winter tubing trip just for 7th graders, and 7th grade students will also engage in a “games night”.

TBAjr.High seeks to strike the right balance between thoughtful lessons and programs and crucial social time so that our young teens will continue to cultivate relationships with one another and so that they will continue to feel that they are essential members of the TBA community.

Current 7th graders should mark their calendars for Tuesday, April 17th, when they are invited to TBAHigh for the evening in order to introduce them to TBAHigh.

College Connection

Many thanks to the wonderful College Connection volunteers; Stacie Berman, Sarah Freedman, Lisa Goodman, Arlynn Joffe, Sheri Leventhal, Elana Lippa and Toby Savell. Some of these ladies do not even have college students; they were in the Temple for other events and stopped in to help. Together we put together 89 Purim packages that were sent to our college students.

Rabbi Weiss and I have enjoyed organizing and putting these packages together for our college students. Good luck to all of them in their summer endeavors. Please look for the sign-up instructions in August for the 2018-19 school year.

If you would like to be added to the College Connection volunteer list, or to make a donation, please contact me at jrmhyp@yahoo.com.

You Can Help Create Shabbat Shalom

How good it is to greet each other on Shabbat. Our wonderful new Hospitality Team greets everyone as they enter and helps with name tags and introductions (contact Cathy at cathyfriedman@gmail.com). Our Oneg Mavens greet everyone with wine/grape juice and challah as they leave the sanctuary. It feels wonderful and it creates community. Both groups need your help.

Previously we assigned Oneg Mavens, but some people found this difficult to work into their schedules. So now we are asking you to help us, PLEASE. You can sign up in advance (Irene at ip1@bethami.org) or just pitch in when you are here. It is simple and fun. Leave the sanctuary at the beginning of the Kaddush, unwrap the food, take the trays of wine/grape juice and challah to the middle doors leading into the Left Kinneret Social Hall, wish everyone "Shabbat Shalom", take the wine back to the refrigerator and that's it! Shabbat Shalom!

Community Council of Greater Washington. I served on the Board and as an Officer, including a term as President. Dealing with the public policy issues that affect the Jewish community and helping to frame our community's response to various challenges – local, national and international – was very interesting and exciting. Now, based on that experience, I have been invited to sit on the national board of the JCPA – the Jewish Council for Public Affairs – which is the “hub” for all the Jewish Community Relations organizations in the country. In the current political and social environment, it is of great importance to carefully consider the interests and plan the response of the Jewish community. I have had the opportunity to participate in these conversations and to interact with leaders of not only the Jewish community, but with those from a variety of religious, cultural, social and ethnic communities with whom we act in concert on the issues around which we have common interests.

Similarly, my interest and involvement with Israel and Israel related organizations are well known to the congregation. It always pleased me that this interest was shared by so many of our members and resulted in a proud history of congregational trips to Israel and a high level of Israel related programming and projects. I have always been a big fan of the Jewish National Fund. Like many of us, I grew up with the blue and white tzedakah box in my family's home in which we saved money to plant trees in Israel. But as Israel changed, JNF changed and so has my involvement. Today, JNF addresses a wide array of needs, from community development to resource management and on to a variety of social needs in all sectors of Israeli society. One of those areas is providing support and opportunity to differently-abled persons. A project dear to me is called Special in Uniform, which brings differently-abled young adults into the social and educational experience of the Israeli Defense Forces. It would take too much space here for me to explain it fully, but I encourage you to look on U-Tube. Just search “Special in Uniform” and, after watching a video or two, you will understand why I am involved, working with others in the Washington Jewish community to fund a unit of Special in Uniform.

Finally, my involvement with our Reform Movement has morphed from national to international. After being involved with different aspects of the Union for Reform Judaism, including a long stint as a Board member and Executive Officer of ARZA (Association of Reform Zionists in America), the Israel engagement affiliate of our movement, I have moved over to become an Executive Officer of ARZENU, which is the Israel engagement affiliate of the World Union for Progressive Judaism – the international Reform Movement. In this role, I am working with Reform and Progressive Jewish communities around the world, helping them develop Israel related programming and supporting their involvement in the World Zionist Organization. This involvement will be taking Barbara and me to Prague at the end of April where I will be presenting and participating in the WUPJ's European Conference.

In fact, Barbara and I have been doing a bit more traveling than we previously were able to do, but we always enjoy traveling with friends. That is why I want to share with the congregation one more project I am working on. Following up on our very successful congregational trip to Central Europe in the spring of 2015, I am planning another Jewish Heritage travel experience for the spring of 2019 (which is really only 14 months away!). This time I will be leading a congregational trip to Morocco, March 31-April 8, 2019 (see page 7 for more information). It will be a wonderful experience to explore the past and present of a rich Jewish culture different from our own, yet similar in those ways that connect our people across time and space. I appreciate that Rabbi Pokras has encouraged me, as Rabbi Emeritus, to continue to plan and provide these travel experiences for the congregation as a complement to our Israel travel program which he now leads.

So, all in all, a long answer to a few short questions. I am grateful to have the opportunity to pursue these interests at a significant level and in a personally satisfying way. Even more important to me is the chance to remain connected to our congregation and its members in a meaningful way. I look forward to sharing much more with the congregation as we all go from strength to strength.

WOMEN OF TBA CONTINUED FROM PAGE 9

PJ Library is a Jewish family engagement program implemented on a local level throughout North America that mails free, high-quality Jewish children's books and music to families with children ages six months to eight years old on a monthly basis. A program of the Harold Grinspoon Foundation, families in hundreds of communities across the U.S and Canada are able to utilize these children's items to explore the core values of Judaism. Studies have shown that this program has been quite influential in helping to increase awareness of Jewish traditions, practices, and values; empower parents to become their children's first Jewish educators; spark more meaningful Jewish conversations in homes; get families more involved in Jewish congregations, and welcome and connect families to the wider Jewish community. In order to participate in PJ Library, families must have a child, age 6 months-8 years, live anywhere in North America, and be raising Jewish children. Families are not required to be affiliated with a congregation.

This year, again thanks to the YES Fund, WRJ was able to help provide more than 200 select URJ congregations across the U.S. with an opportunity to receive a matching grant to subsidize the PJ Library subscription cost for families in their local communities. During the initial launch of the partnership, 58 congregations received grants and it is expected that an additional 10,200 more children will eventually be reached.

WTBA sends $18 of each member's dues to WRJ to help support PJ Library, among other projects. In addition, we donate $5 per member each year to the YES Fund. Thank you to all of our members for helping to support WRJ and, especially, PJ Library.
